

FIELD DAY EXERCISES AT GREENWOOD FRIDAY

Several Thousand People on Hand to View Annual Contest of Various Schools.

Greenwood, April 14.—With an attendance estimated at from 2,000 to 2,500, the largest in the history of field day, the annual exercises began in Greenwood this morning. Reading, spelling, arithmetic and declamation contests were held at Magnolia school and the grammar grades held their athletic contests at the fair grounds. The athletic contests of the high school began at the fair grounds this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Prof. R. E. Sharp, of Andrews chapel school, presided at the declamation and recitation contests in the auditorium of Magnolia school this morning. Boys and girls of the sixth and seventh grades participated and the following were declared winners:

Carly DeWent, of Greenwood, first; John Beason Sloan, of Ninety Six, second in the declamation, and in the recitation; Janie Bell Barnett, of Greenwood, first, and Ella Sherard, of Ninety Six, second. The judges were Mrs. Andrew Taylor, of Upland; Miss Ella Mays, of Pine Grove, and Col. F. N. K. Bailey.

PRESIDENT WILSON NOT EXPECTED TO MAKE TRIP SOUTH AS WAS PLANNED

Columbia, April 14.—President Wilson will probably not be able to accept the invitations extended by Charlotte and Columbia for a trip south in May. Governor Manning received the following letter yesterday from President Wilson:

"I thank you sincerely for the cordial invitations which you extend to me to visit Columbia next month. It is a very attractive invitation and I greatly appreciate your courtesy. Unfortunately I am unable to accept for it is by no means certain that I shall be able to go to Charlotte. The presumption always is against my becoming free to attend anything of this sort, and it is necessary in frankness to tell you so. Of course, if I find it possible to accept the Charlotte invitation I shall be glad to keep your wishes in mind."

Invitations to visit Columbia were also extended by William Banks, president of the South Carolina Press association, and L. A. Griffith, M. D., mayor of Columbia.

SWITZERLAND IS NOW ENTIRELY OUT OF COAL

Little Nation is Dependent on Germany Since French Supplies Cut Off.

(By Associated Press.) Zurich, Switzerland, April 14.—Switzerland is now entirely dependent upon Germany for coal, not producing a single ton in her own country, and no longer being able to get supplies from France.

Recently the German government organized a monopoly for supplying Switzerland with coal, through a central sales office in Basel. One of the chief objects is to control the distribution as to prevent anti-German firms from getting any coal, accordingly, a comprehensive black list is being drawn up which includes three main classes of consumers. First are the scores of Swiss factories which are working day and night to make munitions and all sorts of military material for the allies. Next come the numerous factories making ordinary every day goods, but which are destined almost exclusively for the allies and their colonies. And the third class on the black list is, perhaps, even more important for Germany than the other two; for it comprises Swiss firms which are taking advantage of the war to try to capture German foreign markets.

Chief among these enemies of Germany are the manufacturers of aniline dyes, and of electro-technical machinery and supplies. This German coal monopoly in Basel is managed by a board of nine directors, with an executive committee of three; the principal member of which is Herr Hirtler, perhaps the greatest commercial magnate in Switzerland, and he is also the greatest coal man in the country, importing more German coal into Switzerland before the war than all the other agents together.

The Swiss Import Trust which was organized some months ago by the allies to control the imports of raw materials coming through France and Italy, so as to prevent their reaching Germany or Austria, has also as its president the same Herr Hirtler, who is directing the German coal monopoly at Basel. At Bern, where the Trust's headquarters are, Herr Hirtler is the trusted confidant of the allies and enjoys every opportunity of learning the identity of the Swiss firms which are working for the allies, and are friendly to them. And at Basel, as vice president of the German coal monopoly, it is his duty to prevent by every possible means, these same firms from getting the coal without which they cannot work.

It is a curious situation, and Herr Hirtler's coal position has been sharply criticized in the Swiss press, even in the pro-German organs.

ANDREW CARNEGIE IN CHARLESTON ON RETURN FROM FLORIDA CRUISE

Charleston, April 14.—Returning from a winter's cruising in Florida waters on the house boat Everglade, Andrew Carnegie, multi-millionaire steel magnate, left the boat here yesterday and proceeded north in a special car. The Everglade with the "Laird of Skibo" and his party, including his physician, arrived here yesterday afternoon, having come direct from Florida.

In spite of elaborate preparations taken to prevent newspaper representatives from interviewing him, a reporter talked for a short time with the steel magnate as the latter left the boat yesterday afternoon to go to the union station. Mr. Carnegie declined to express his views on national questions of any character. He said that he would have been pleased if he could have seen something of the city of Charleston.

SAYS BANDIT CHIEF NEVER BE CAPTURED

American on Visit to Greenville, Who Has Been Living at Parral, Talks Interestingly of Mexican Situation—Declares Mexico Alone Unable to Establish Permanent Government.

Greenville, April 14.—"Mexico will never be able to establish a reliable and permanent government without the aid of the United States or some other foreign power," stated D. F. Huppoldt, of Parral Chihuahua, Mexico, who is now in Greenville for a few days as the guest of N. C. Poe on North Main street. Mr. Huppoldt is an American and has valuable interests in Parral, about 350 miles south of the border. The Parral section to which Villa and his force of bandits are reported to be fleeing in an effort to evade the American expedition. According to reports from the border, the American troops were engaged by Parral citizens yesterday with losses on both sides.

Mr. Huppoldt left his home in Parral last October and up until two months ago he has been residing in El Paso, Texas. Things were getting rather warm for Americans according to Mr. Huppoldt in October, and its requires two days and two nights for him to make the journey to El Paso in safety. Since then, he stated, it has taken persons as many as ten days to make the trip. He stated that he realized in October that it was unwise to continue his Mexican business. The bandits had stolen all of his company's horses; and whenever they received a shipment of provisions, these were taken also. He said that the looting parties were so large resistance was impossible.

Never Catch Villa. Mr. Huppoldt did not seem at all optimistic over the prospects of the American troops effecting a capture of the bandit chief. "There are a number of reasons why it will be almost impossible to capture Villa," he said. "First, the bandits are able to travel much faster than the American army. It is necessary for the army to wait on provisions and other supplies, while the bandits steal their provisions along the path of their flight. Second, Villa is now in the Parral section, where he is among friends. The third reason, according to Mr. Huppoldt, is that Villa has almost reached the mountains where he is sure to find a secure hiding place. The bandit chief has operated a number of times in this section of the mountains, and, according to Mr. Huppoldt, he is familiar with every trail and path. Mr. Huppoldt believes that the United States troops must either withdraw in the near future without attaining their purpose, or else fight the whole of Mexico. He thinks that war with the southern republic is almost inevitable.

"The situation was rather unsettled but quiet two months ago when I left El Paso," stated the former resident of Mexico. However, he stated, trouble was brewing and there was an undercurrent of bitter feeling. The citizens along the border were expecting trouble at any minute from one faction or the other. Mr. Huppoldt stated that even the strongest and most loyal Democrats at that time, were rather recent towards the Wilson administration because of the prolonged period of watchful waiting.

Mr. Huppoldt expects to return to Mexico after the present tangled state of affairs have come to an end. When that would be, he would make no prophecy.

CONTINUE LIBEL AGAINST STEAMER

Case of Liner That Violated Neutrality Proclamation is Deferred.

(By Associated Press.) San Juan, Porto Rico, April 14.—The department of justice, Washington, has obtained a continuance of the libel suit against the Hamburg-American line steamer Odenwald, charged with a violation of President Wilson's neutrality proclamation of August, 1914, until October. The case was set for trial in the federal court here for April 20.

In March, 1915, the Odenwald, after having been warned by federal authorities here not to attempt to leave port, attempted to sail without clearance papers and was stopped by a solid shot fired across her bow from the guns at El Morro. Warning blank shots were ignored but after the solid shot the ship stopped, turned around and has been anchored in the harbor ever since.

The attempted escape of the Odenwald occurred only a few days before the German sea-raider Kronprinz Wilhelm entered Hampton Roads and interned.

For several days before the Odenwald made her dash for the sea she had been stocking up with coal and provisions and many head of livestock also were placed aboard the vessel. At about the same time the Kronprinz Wilhelm was reported in these waters. The Odenwald asked the customs authorities for clearance papers giving Hamburg as her port of destination, but these papers were denied.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.

Safe Medicine for Children. "Is it safe?" is the first question to be considered when buying cough medicine for children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has long been a favorite with mothers of young children as it contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. It is pleasant to take, too, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. This remedy is most effective in relieving coughs, colds and croup. Obtainable everywhere.
